

Laron
is there.

“ Step out of your routine and help where you are needed most. ”

It's 4 a.m. and thousands of packages are already pouring into our Lenexa, Kansas laboratory. The clock is ticking. Speed is everything. Our team begins quickly sorting each drug test by priority, program type, and specimen. We must work efficiently and accurately because we kick off the lab testing process and each step in the workflow impacts the next. Ultimately, we affect how quickly our clients see their results.

At Quest, I found a role where I can train, mentor, and provide leadership among my peers. I am encouraged to bring new ideas and perspectives from the frontlines because we never stop trying to work smarter and faster. That's why I love my job — I can see and feel the difference I make every day.
