“Talent wins games,
but teamwork and
intelligence win
championships.”

How did Michael Jordan win six titles for the Chicago Bulls in eight years? He didn't. The Bulls Dynasty earned those titles by playing and practicing at high levels on a daily basis. Although Michael Jordan is arguably the greatest basketball player of all time, he won championships with the support of all-star talent.

Teamwork drives success. Our systems have multiple touch points and our team must stay in constant communication to navigate changes, challenges, and integrations. Our focus is on development and continuous change of the systems that report laboratory data. I feel lucky to have worked alongside a group of passionate, dedicated people who, much like the Bulls of the 90s, strive to be greater, every single day.
